Taipeh. May 31.—A Nationalist Navy communique today claimed the capture of more than 160 Chinese Communists.

It said the Navy shelled the Wanshan Hong-Islands near kong inflicting "heavy casualtics." The Communista occupied most of the Wanshans last week when the Nationalists were forced to evacuate.

Among the captives was one gunboat captain who had defected to the Communists. The communique added. "Battle is continuing with Wanshan Islands under the shellfire of the superior Nationalist Navy." -United Press.

Wanshan Islands | Separate Peace With East Germany Likely

London, May 31.—Diplomatic quarters here said on Wednesday that when the Supreme Soviet meets on June 12, it may mark the end of the "state of war" with East Germany, and close the last gap in Russia's pattern of anti-Western diplomacy.

These quarters said there was increasing evidence that Russia was planning an organisation of European and Asian satellite countries in opposition to the United Nations or the Atlantic Council.

EDITORIAL On The Right Road

TO-ONE can attempt to analyse the disclosed results of the Bagulo Conference and say truthfully that the seven nations grouped together to discuss. problems bearing heavily on South-East Asia, accomplished anything spectacular. It would, indeed, have been too much to expect. Never before has such a gathering been suggested, much less realised. In all the circumstances, a cautious appronch was inevitable; the natural tendency of each delegate, in varying degrees, was to feel the way carefully, gather impressions of the possibilities for the future rather than encourage immediate commitments. It was not surprising, therefore, that little of a concrete nature received general approval. The principal proposal of the Philippines delegation headed by Brigadier-General Romulo, the setting up of a permanent regional organisation, implying political cohesion. frequent consultation and gradual union, was not fintly rejected, but made no obvious headway. The seven nations represented included Australia, India and Pakistan. It is far too early to find them ready for political attachments of the type envisaged by President Quirlno, although fully realising the purpose and prepared to give positive co-operation in the economic, social and cultural fields. The farthest the conference agreed to go politically was to authorise Gen. Romulo to keep a consultative atmosphere in being through, mainly, diplomatic channels. Nevertheless, the deliberations cannot be dismissed as unimportant or uneventful. If the exchange of ideas had in five days resulted in resolutions couched in high-flown language, pledging perpetual union, the reality of the whole business would have been suspect. By modern standards, several of the delegations have yet to grow politically to maturity, a fact proclaimed by the refusal to admit that "underlying the decision for discussion was the Communist menace in Asia. The countries aligned with the United States in the North Atlantic Pact and the Atlantic Council made no bones about it Even 80, the Baguio Conference had its own significance and was not lacking in promise for the future. What was achieved was a better understanding of each other's difficulties and each other's point of view, a growing confidence in being on the right road, a recognition that certain things can be better managed for mutual benefit when nations are willing to work together instead of depending individually on self-reliance. Definite progress cannot, however, be developed by the rushing of fences. South-East Asia has a long row to hoe. Much depends, very largely, on the inner impressions of those who talked things over in Baguio. If they were stimulated to a sincere belief in cultivating a closer regional unity: in short, if the immense indvantages were appreciated, the Philippines initiative may have historical value. Guidance into the desired channels should, of course, be nided by the West, when the Commonwealth schemes for technical advice and for financing development projects, crystallise into an international undertaking. Many complications require to be overcome, but the impulse which prompted President Quirino's invitation was sound. Paucity of observable results is not the criterion;

Jim Laker Takes Eight Wickets For Two Runs

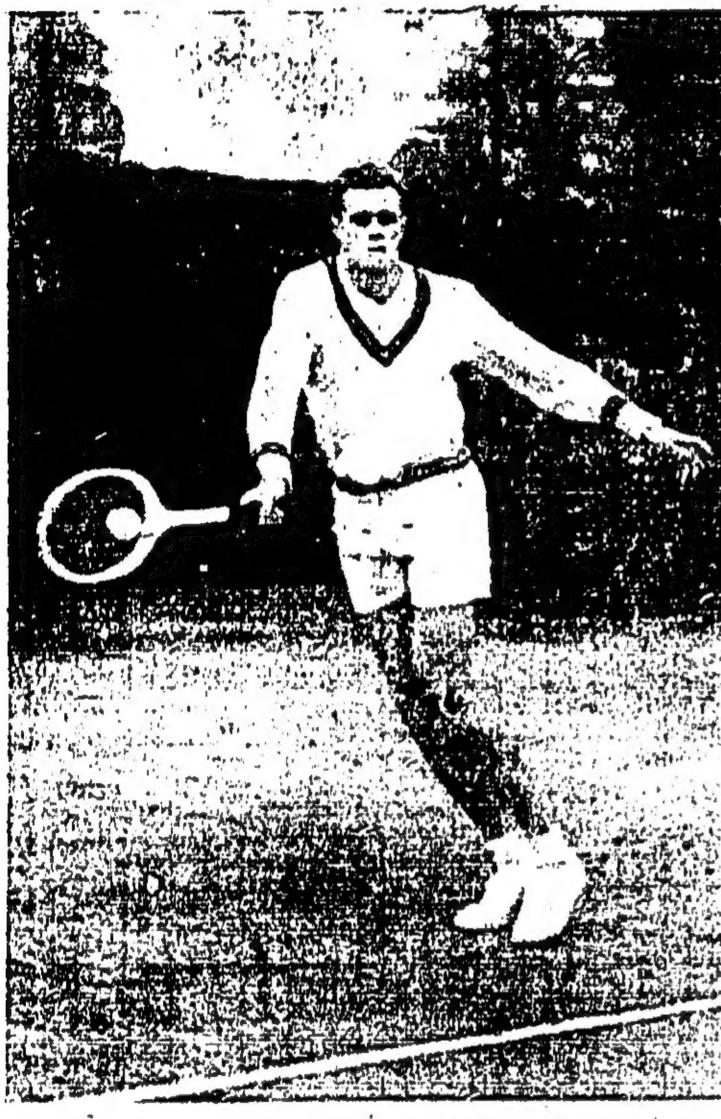

Bradford, May 31 .- Jim Laker, Surrey's offspin bowler, accomplished one of the most remarkable performances in cricket history when, in the Test trial match here today, he took eight wickets for only two runs.

His full figures for this amazing bowling were - 14 overs, 12 maidens, two runs and eight wickets.

Put in to bat by Norman Yardley, the England captain, the Rest were all out in 110 minutes for 27 runs, the lowest total since 1947, when Gloucestershire, at Bristol, dismissed Somerset for 25 runs.

A curious feature about the achievement was that Laker was born 28 years ago at Bradford, a stone's throw away from the ground on which this best performance of his career occurred.

Let Dollery Lead The Test Team

SAYS BRUCE HARRIS

Let this be made plain about my England side. It is designed as the one most likely to beat the West Indies now, not as the least unlikely to beat the Australians next winter. I am suggesting no man merely because he is "promising"; for this purpose age and youth do not matter-current form does.

Captaincy first—the most difficult problem of all. Of all the experienced captains now in English cricket who is most worth his place as a player? . To my mind there is the strongest case for Tom Dollery of Warwickshire. Twenty years or more after the fameus dictum of Lord Hawke-"pray God no professional will ever captain England" we have come to a time when such a revolution is rapidly becoming inevitable.

WASHBROOK, TOO

Len Hutton, about the only Yorkshire batsman able to make runs this reason, deserves his place still as an opener, and so, abundantly, does Reg Simpson, making enormous scores this season. But I would retain Cyril Washbrook, in form just now with the bat and worth relection as perhaps the best cover-point in England.

Denls Compton deserves automatic relection, not merely because he is Denis but because he is batting up to reputation. He is our number four, with Dollery five.

My number six will cause shouts of disapprovat here and there-Jack Parker of Surrey. SELECTORS THOUGHT OTHERWISE

The England Test Selection Committee had its own ideas about the 22 players for the Test Trial that started at Bradford yesterday.

The teams are:

ENGLAND: N. Yard ley, Yorkshire, (captain), L. Hutton (Yorkshire). R. Simpson (Notts), W. Edrich (Middlesex), D. Compton (Middlesex), C. Washbrook (Lancashire). T. Bailey (Essex), T. G. Evans (Kent), A. V. Bedser (Surrey), J. Laker (Surrey), and W. Hollies (Warwickshire).

THE REST: G. Doggart (captain), D. Sheppard, P. May and J. Dewes, all of Cambridge University, D. Kenyon and R. Jenkins (Worcester), R. Spooner (Warwickshire), E. A. Bedser (Surrey), R. Berry (Lancashire), L. Jackson (Derbyshire), F. Trueman (Yorkshire). The 12th man for either side is N. Rogers (Hampshire).

PAT LANDSBERG ADDS:

There Are Others Worth Mention

"To admit the Chinese Communists into the United Nations would be putting the finishing touch to the Soviet aggression in China. It would be a great blow to the cause of freedom in China and throughout the world. After such an act the peoples of the world will find that chances of peace are much less then now. The United Nations would be doing the cause of peace a great disservice if it should lead the world on the path of appeasement to he aggressor."

Dr Tslang added: "Mr Lie's policy virtually condemns the people of China to perpetual slavery. That is not what they expect of the Secretary General of the United Nations. His efforts may hold the United Nations together as a piece of gigantic bureaucratic machinery for the time being, but I am sure it will not serve the cause of peace."-United Press.
